We Listen

We never forget that we are dealing with individuals who are facing the life-altering challenge of separation or divorce, especially when children are involved.

Not All Family Law Issues Go to Court

The good news is that many family law issues can be settled without the need for a hearing or trial. You have options. We will explain your rights so that you are fully prepared during settlement negotiations. If a compromise cannot be reached, we will prepare you for court.
